Hosted on the Campus of the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT) in New York, NY In conjunction with Middle Atlantic Association of Colleges of Business Administration

Hospitality Resolution

Resolved, this 26th day of October, 2016:

Whereas MAACBA gathered from Oct 26 to Oct 28 in NYC at the FIT to be hosted by the Baker School of Business & Technology for the 66th meeting of the organization, and

Whereas Michael Ginzberg left the Mid-Atlantic for the unspellable and unpresentable record largest New England city of Worchester, MA. The only dean with resolution writing experience, and

Whereas Lake George was too bucolic for the rough and tumble street fighting deans of MAACBA, and Whereas Leadership gap in the Gotham requiring over 50 business school deans to fill the void created by the Donald being in the campaign trail, and

Whereas MAACBA schedules a reception on a hotel rooftop garden on a night that almost put Governor Pence into the Bay and onto Riker's Island – could the new refrain become “lock him up”, and

Whereas Business deans need to know how to volunteer, to understand that they are running retail establishments in need of dramatic innovation and demonstrate their impact to AACSB provosts, and the rest of the world, and

Whereas Business deans are desperate to learn how to follow FIT's lead and to create a Toy Department where the tenure of problem faculty members could be moved, and

Whereas Steven Frumkin and Larry Singleton under the direction of Jen Maden put together 3 days of insight, information, and gracious hospitality under the brand of our first MAACBA logo, now therefore, be it

Resolved, that the members of MAACBA offers sincere thanks and appreciation to the administration, faculty, and students of the Fashion Institute of Technology for a wonderful annual conference, and be it Further Resolved, that the deans of the Mid-Atlantic gather again at about this time next year in the City of Brotherly Love to consider the post-election fate of global business education.

Resolution passed and recorded at New York, New York on 28 October 2016.
